MR. ETHERIDGE'S APPOINTMENTS.

Hon. EMERSON ETHERIDGE, Conservative candidate for Governor, will address the people at the following times and places:

Huntingdon, Friday, June 28th.
Lexington, Saturday, June 29th.
Gallatin, Tuesday, July 2d.
Lebanon, Thursday, July 4th.
Murfreesboro, Friday, July 5th.
Shelbyville, Saturday, July 6th.

CONFISCATION is the sword of DAMOCLES suspended by a single hair over the heads of the Southern people. The Radicals apply the thumb screws to an unarmed and defenceless people, and if the poor victim gives out a cry of agony, or permits the least contortion of features, the brutal tyrants, with a look of indignation, sternly exclaim, "Hush! you must hear these tortures without a murmur, or we'll confiscate your property." They are striving to radicalize the South. They are abusing and villifying our people. They have conspired with domestic traitors to disturb, by their devilish machinations, the public peace. They murder our citizens in cold blood. They ride old men on rails. In times of profound peace they quarter upon the people a dirty mob of tatterdemalions, who insult, rob and steal from poor men, while they are honestly and industriously hoeing corn or mauling rails. They pass laws requiring us to "stigmatize, anathematize, and forever defame, degrade, disarm, damn and dishonor" our immortal heroes, both living and dead. They ask us with our own hands to write with a redhot iron, "shame! dishonor!" upon the brow of our comrades in arms. They have disfranchised nine-tenths of the intelligent, taxpaying people, and after doing all these infamous things, if their victims utter a shout for justice and liberty, or a complaint against vassliage and abject slavery, the despots and usurpers say we must submit like whipt spaniels, or we will confiscate your property! These threats have alarmed the money loving old fools, and they hear confiscation sighing in the breeze, or see it written across the sky. They see this terrible hobgoblin in their dreams, and when they elevate their little thoughts toward the gorgeous blazonry of the stars, they still see this frightful Raw-head-and-bloody-bones. Ursa Major is the ladle, the Dipper the arms, Ursa Minor the body, and the seven stars the tail. But brave men are not intimidated by these threats of confiscation, and they do not propose to join the Radical party to prevent even confiscation. The Supreme Court only a short time since decided that Congress could pass no law confiscating property until the party had been adjudged guilty of treason by a jury of their countrymen. This threat of confiscation is nothing but balderdash and gasconade intended to frighten the timid and time serving into Radicalism. We trust it may become the slogan cry of the Radical party. There are some things which the North will not indorse, and confiscation is one of them, and if they emblazon confiscation upon their banners, the fate of the Radical party will be like that of the sea gulls which dash their brains out against the light-houses upon the shore. A few recreant sons of the South may take counsel of their fears and sell themselves and their principles for a few pieces of silver, but those who still respect themselves and their friends, will spurn with indignation this threat of confiscation, and still spit upon the Radical party.

WE have just enjoyed a call from Hon. JOHN W. LEFTWICH, our gallant standard bearer for Congress, who returns to the city buoyant with hope from a thorough canvass of this Congressional district. He was with Mr. ETHERIDGE at Purdy, Bolivar, Jackson and Humboldt, and feels confident that at least one hundred votes were gained to Conservatism at Purdy, and that an equal number would have been gained at each of the other points had there been any material from which to make the gain; but in the other counties there is literally no "Radical party." Having read our remarks relative to the conduct of Judge HURST, at Purdy, Dr. LEFTWICH thinks we ought to do HURST the justice to add that before the conclusion of the speech he apologised for what he termed his "rudeness," and gave it as his opinion that the last Franchise Law was unconstitutional!

Instead of the "reign of terror," said by the Radical organs to prevail in Madison county, deterring the colored men from registering, the friendship between the disfranchised class and the colored men is so manifest that it is with great difficulty that a colored man can get his voting certificate, as they are all considered certain to support the candidates who favor the enfranchisement of their white friends and neighbors.

In Haywood county the reaction against Radicalism is even more overwhelming than in any of the other counties, as here many respectable citizens had through indifference allowed themselves to be claimed as Radicals, and presuming on this their names have been used in connection with Radical conventions, when they were not even present, but they now see the social ostracism that would result from such application, and are loud in denial of such charges against their character. The fact that it has in many instances been next to impossible to procure voting certificates without tacitly acknowledging themselves Radicals, has given to Radicalism most of its respectability in West Tennessee, and now that this want has generally been supplied, the party is left as insignificant and repulsive as ever; so much so, indeed, that many of its real friends, under the impulse of "one big disgust," are leaving it before it is too late to do so without an entire loss of reputation.

Doctor LEFTWICH recalled his appointment to speak in this city on Friday night last, because of his inability, even after a personal interview, to get his opponent to meet him at that time, but still hopes to be able to get him before a Memphis audience during this week, as he expressed a willingness to do so if invited by his party friends of the city, and the Chairman of the Radical Executive Committee has already been addressed on the subject, and a favorable response is expected.

Doctor LEFTWICH was courteously allowed an hour to address the audience at the Radical Convention at Mason's depot, on Saturday, which he duly appreciates, and hopes for an opportunity to reciprocate with his competitor.

ON our first side, in the noon dispatches of yesterday, our readers will discover the extraordinary dispatch of General SHERIDAN, declining to obey the order of the President, requiring him to extend the time for registration in Louisiana. The public are not surprised at anything from Gen. SHERIDAN after the manner, it has seemed to common sense people, he has been bullying the high civil authorities at Washington ever since his assumption of his present command; but it will be mortified if this which, it appears to them, should be "the last feather on the camel's back," should go unresented by the President. The offensive terms in which he reviews the Attorney General's opinion, should not be lost sight of in his gracious condescension to execute the order, if the President again requests it. If Mr. JOHNSON desires to retire from office a disgraced man, he has only to continue making concessions to his military subordinates. But if he would withdraw from public position with a history worthy to be written, he must dare everything, and do his duty without fear of the militiry understrappers who are conspiring to degrade him. In striking contrast to the impudent arrogance of SHERIDAN, is the order of General ORD, executing the opinion of the Attorney General in his Military Division. We regret that we have not space for it to-day, but will give it to our readers to-morrow.

WE are glad to learn from his paper of Saturday, that our friend Colonel R. H. GLASS, of the Lynchburg Republican, is recovering from the recent cowardly and almost successful attempt to assassinate him.

Through the express arrangement either of the railroads in bringing the mail, or the Postoffice here in distributing it, we have received no Nashville papers since their issue of Friday. We therefore have not heard the result of the Conservative Congressional Convention Saturday. We suppose, however, Judge Thomas N. Frazer, the late rushingly impeached Judge, was nominated.

PARIS, June 23.

The Emperor forwarded an autograph letter to Marshal Vaillant, requesting him to transmit the thanks of his majesty to the superior counsel of the Paris Exhibition, for the address of congratulation forwarded to him by that body, with reference to the sad occurrence of the 5th instant, and the happy escape during the attempt made on the life of the Czar.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 24.

SURRATT'S TRIAL.—Judge Fisher read the opinion of the Court overruling the motion submitted by the defense on Saturday, asking the recall of witnesses for cross-examination. The counsel for defense noted an exception, and Mr. Merrick desired to file an affidavit bearing upon the same matter, but the counsel for the prosecution objected, and the Court said the affidavit should have been filed before the opinion was delivered.

Dr. J. F. May testified to his identification of the body of Booth, by a scar on the neck occasioned by a surgical operation performed by himself.

John M. Lloyd recognized the prisoner as a frequent visiter at his house.

John M. Lloyd testified that Surratt and Atzerott concealed two guns, rope and monkey wrench under the joists in an upper room of the house occupied by him. It was stated that Mrs. Surratt told him to have the shooting irons ready, as they would be called for soon. His testimony, thrown out, was convictive.

After a recess, Lloyd was cross examined at length. The defense questioned him so as to show that he had a habit of drinking, and was forgetful and had forgotten many things that had transpired. The whole object was to show that witnesses' memory was not to be relied upon.

The court then adjourned.

The Department of State has been informed by Commissioner Beckwith that of two hundred and twenty-four United States exhibitors at Paris, there have been awards in favor of two hundred and sixty-two.

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, June 24.

The river is falling, with five feet in the canal.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.

We have dates from Queretaro to the 8th, San Louis to the 11th, and Monterey to the 17th, via Galveston.

It is reported that as soon as Marquez heard of the sale and delivery of Queretaro by Lopez, he opened the documents left with him by Maximilian. Amongst them he found one in which he abdicated in favor of young Iturbide. Marquez immediately proclaimed Iturbide Emperor, under the regency of the Empress Carlotta. He also arrested thirty of the most notable Liberals, and imprisoned them as hostages for the lives of Maximilian and his companions.

There is no authority for the denial of the Emperor's proclamation published last week. It is still believed that Yeranil, stated to be Maximilian's counsel, has been refused the request for twelve days time to prepare, and that he had been sentenced. It is also rumored that he has been executed; there is nothing authoritative to this effect though. Alvarez, Imperial, would only surrender at Queretaro upon honorable terms.

The terms of the capitulation state that the surrender was made in accordance with the established usages of nations. Martinez, the liberal General, agreeing to these terms, was placed under arrest. Arms and munitions were restored to Alverez. What was to follow were not stated.

Morino Conpe was not shot as has been stated, but was murdered while lying in the hospital at Queretaro.

By last mail it is stated that Marquez had commenced executing the hostages, and had shot two; their names are not given.

The death of Mendez has been confirmed.

All the foreign prisoners, numbering four or five thousand Austrians, Belgians, and French, are en route for Monterey.

The Buntyn

HOMESTEAD LANDS

FOR SALE.

WE have the pleasure of placing on the market three very desirable and valuable lands, known as the Buntyn property as the Homestead Tract of the late Geraldus Buntyn, deceased, lying on the Hernando road, about four miles from the city, on the Gravel Road, five miles east of the city. The improvements, with about twenty acres of land, are now occupied by Mr. Henry Home E. Hill, Esq., who now resides upon the premises. The balance of the land, consisting of about one hundred acres, has been laid off in lots varying in size from five to ten acres each, and will be sold all or as to secure the greatest amount of competition. The dwelling house is a large and commodious one, and affords the opportunity of going to and out of the city, and has in its building a large hall, with rooms on each side, and a residence at this point almost as convenient as to live in the city proper.

The casings can now be had of lots whole or part in original form or in bulk.

IN EXCHANGE FOR CITY PROPERTY.

The executors are directed by the will to sell the place and lands at any price, and are willing to dispose of the same in exchange for city property or vacant lots in the city.

To all persons looking for a suburban residence, we do not think any property more desirable can be found, both for health, convenience of good neighborhood, within the same distance from the city.

The terms will be made very liberal and easy, and the prices low to parties desirous of buying for occupancy.

Plans of the subdivision will be shown at our office.

AMERICAN MERCY.

Refugees from Indian Atrocities.

An incident that came to our knowledge yesterday, curiously illustrates the energy of American character. Jessie Kimball, a brave citizen of Ohio, served during the war in the Sixteenth Ohio volunteers, and when mustered out of the service took his wife and family to Minnesota, where they located on one hundred and sixty acres of land in the western part of the State. The family consisted of Kimball, his wife, a daughter fourteen years of age, a son three years of age, and an infant, which is now between three and four years of age. They had got their home in comfortable condition, and were looking forward to happy days, when seven weeks ago the Indian war burst upon their neighborhood. They fled in terror, and had gone but a short distance when the blazing of their homestead warned them that the savages had discovered their flight, and were in hot pursuit. They were in a wagon and could thus be easily followed. Before they reached a place of safety the Indians fired on them, and one ball killed the daughter. By desperate driving the others escaped, but when they reached Blue Earth City the horses dropped dead from exhaustion. With nearly means they hired conveyance, and got along on railroad cars until they reached Dubuque, from whence to Rock Island the steamboat carried them, and thence to St. Louis. Their means were expended, but strangers pitied and aided them to get away. The brave ex-soldier, who, from camp exposure was suffering from rheumatism, the strong heart-ed wife and mother, with their little boy and their three year old baby, walked from St. Louis to Cairo, and from Cairo all the way to this city. They arrived yesterday morning on their way to Helena, where Mr. Kimball has a brother, perhaps to New Orleans, where the parents of Mrs. Kimball reside. They found a man who was going down from Memphis to Helena in a skiff, and who generously offered to take them with him. So, last evening, they started with him. All the way from St. Louis to Cairo, and from Cairo to this city, they slept in the open air, having no shelter and scarce any bedding. This exposure was hard on the infant, which had a severe attack of bum fever. Mayor Lofland gave them provisions to carry them to Helena, and medicine for the child, and with brave hearts this indomitable family went their way. The woman was worn, but still brave and hopeful.

The elegant vase to the most popular married lady, at the Asbury festival, was awarded to Mrs. Jessie Moore. The vote was: Mrs. Robinson, 2; Mrs. D. Capage, 3; Mrs. Moore, 100.

We sincerely regret having to announce the death of W. J. Hanley, Esq., of the late firm of M. Christal & Co.—a most estimable gentleman, who has been about ten days ill. His family is in the North, but he has had every care by the excellent family of J. P. Chadwick, Esq.

Only two nights more of the Asbury festival. Go to it by all means. Prizes for doctors, merchants, city officials and pretty girls, of whom there are crowds there.

A thief who probably had not paid black mail to Beaumont or his detective, was yesterday paraded through the streets with "Thief" placarded on his back. His accomplices were not placarded, and the inference is that they "squared it."

The "Home Again" Restaurant, on the southwest corner of Monroe and Second streets, is to be opened in style to-day, by Mrs. Anna Englebrecht, who gives a grand lunch between ten and twelve o'clock.

R. F. C. Brooks, Esq., wished the Radicals of all shades to have a grand celebration of July 4th, by decking the graves at the National Cemetery, but the majority preferred to have little gatherings of colored people who can be radicalized into hatred of Southern white people.

At a regular meeting of the Shotwell Jackson base ball club, it was resolved that the season should be considered closed to September 25, 1867. Sensible chaps. It is absurd to play ball this weather.

John Casey was arrested for stealing $75 from Mr. Mussey, and Mike Pinley for stealing one hundred and ten dollars worth of clothes and money from the trunk of John Ward.

Tom Pollard is charged with stealing jewelry, and Frank Fuller with stealing a mule, and John Bray with stealing a horse and buggy.

In noticing the recent commencement exercises of the La Salette academy, particular mention should have been made of Miss Katie Gilbert. Her elegant and dancing were greatly admired, and called forth hearty applause. This really talented young lady promises at some future time to be an ornament to the histrionic art.

The Asbury festival in Stillman Hall is so worthy of patronage that we direct attention to the fact that it will be continued on several evenings of this week. It is a very pleasant affair, and deserves a hearty and generous support. The ladies who have it in charge have shown taste and liberality in the arrangements, and Memphis should show that it appreciates their plans and efforts.

One of the finest libraries in the city is now on exhibition at Pessmore's auction rooms. It belonged to one of our leading professional gentlemen, but when sold is to be stored while the owner travels for health and pleasure, or is to be sold at private sale or publicly by auction, is yet unknown.

The widower whose hasty marriage and subsequent exit to escape the wrath of a previous husband, with stolen name, had been forgotten, as noticed recently, is again in trouble. Husband No. 1 departed as mysteriously as he came, and our worthy widower was persuaded to take his trunk next to the house of his doubtful sort of wife. Matrimonial felicity seemed almost in his reach once more, when suddenly he discovers that the lawyer who drew up for him a bill of divorce from the so called widow had taken steps to prosecute him for his fees. He has now misgivings that his troubles are not ended.

Mr. Barry Fletcher, who has been dispensing soda and mineral waters at Chandler's with so much courtesy and alacrity during the season, will take up his line of march for Philadelphia to-day on a visit to his old home. He has our best wishes on his journey, and we shall greet his return to Augusta with unfeigned pleasure. He is a young gentleman whose good heart and uniform courtesy have made him many friends here.

STABBING AFFRAY.—Two men, named Sam. Waters and John Kelly had a quarrel on Sunday night, which resulted in a fight, when Kelly, who is a Baltimorean, stabbed Waters four times, inflicting some dangerous wounds. He was arrested on the wharf, yesterday, when about to leave for Louisville, where he resides. Waters, who was taken to the hospital, is one of the many whose stabbing is no great loss to the community. This is patent, from the fact that his home is Cairo, and that he was himself in jail in Cincinnati, not long ago, for stabbing.

THE CITY OF BALTIMORE.

A Mass Directing her Attention to Trade with it.

Baltimore possessing equal advantages in many points to the Southern cities with her more Northern commercial sisters, and being excelled by them in few, if any, of the details of inducements, whilst she possesses many which they do not, is entitled to the support of the Southern people for political reasons, which should constitute, in the present condition of national affairs, a leading consideration with them in directing their trade. She is Conservative to the core. She is represented in the Congress of the United States by stalwart defenders of the rights of the non-represented States. In the Maryland Convention, now in session, which opposes with admirable and unyielding firmness, the ravenous and insatiable demands of the Radical wolves, who are preying on the vitals of the Constitution, she is represented by twenty-two of her ablest and oldest citizens, to whom the association of Radicalism is as offensive as that of the most loathsome pestilence or disease-breeding nuisance. We are glad to see that she is making an effort to secure to herself a due share of Southern trade. Some two months since a number of her leading merchants, representing various branches of trade, indorsed Major G. A. Mayer, now a resident of Baltimore, but who had been for twenty-seven years an honored merchant and respected citizen of Arkansas, and desiring the war a true, faithful and zealous officer of the Confederacy, to visit Arkansas, and present the advantages of Baltimore to the merchants of that State as a emporium of trade. No selection could have been more admirable, for Mayor Mayer possesses a very high commercial reputation and the confidence of the people. The Major passed through the city yesterday, en route home, and informed us that his mission has been a complete success. We are glad of this, and are sorry that he could not have delayed here, as we are certain his lucid explanations of the advantages of Baltimore would have caused more of our Memphis merchants to seek the inducements of the markets of that city. The Major indulges no conceit with Memphis. He only presents the claims of Baltimore in comparison with other Northern centres for such trade as always seeks them, and which Memphis will be able to invite when she inaugurates direct trade. In Baltimore the Southern merchant is treated as a gentleman, and is not assaulted in hotels, saloons, and the leading houses of the merchants themselves, as in Philadelphia, with cowardly demonstrations of Radical violence. She will not be told there that they want "no rebel trade." And we say that the merchant who will subject himself to such indignities when there is a city like Baltimore, where he can be treated courteously and courteously treated, deserves to be so treated, and is worthy of the contempt which his treacherous excites.

ANOTHER GREAT CHANCE.

The Southern Asylum Presents Valuable Memphis Property.

The Southern Asylum Land Distribution project has now adopted a plan which must give general satisfaction. They will not merely divide lands in Corinth, Hernando and the outskirts of our city, but will put up as a grand prize Memphis property that everyone in Memphis knows and admires.

This grand prize will be the residence and lots of M. Gallaway, Esq., on the northeast corner of Second and Court street. There is no finer location in the city for either a business house or residence. The building is substantial and commodious. The lot is the choicest of Memphis, within the delightful walk of Court square.

This magnificent prize should attract great attention, and the confidence of the people.

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, June 25, 1867.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

The AVALANCHE is not interested in the success of any newspaper agency engaged in the sale of newspapers to steamboats, nor can its river column be used in any such connection. Steamboats will be noticed upon their merits alone, with a due regard to the public interest and a proper concern for the safety of the traveling public and the freighting interests of Memphis and our river friends.

Weather clear and warm. The river here came to a stand yesterday morning, and commenced rising at noon. It rose two and a half inches up to dark. The rise is from the upper Mississippi, but will not amount to much. The Ohio is falling steadily, with five and a half feet in the canal. At St. Louis and Cairo, the river is rising slowly. White and Arkansas rivers are receding steadily, with a fair stage in each.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The torrid weather continued yesterday, although there was a gentle shower in the forenoon, and the clouds hung lazily around during the rest of the day, giving place through the rifts to burning glances of the sun. Business languished, without any marked improvement. Sales and shipments were few and far between. Some cotton will go by the Sam. J. Hale to-morrow for Cincinnati, and some is in reserve for the Quitman on Wednesday. But little is coming from the country, and the stock here is perceptibly diminishing.

The Commercial is the Tuesday United States mail packet for White river this afternoon. She is what they term along the line "the old stand by," and deserves the high estimation in which she is held, through her regularity, promptitude and the accommodating spirit of her noble officers. She is now in charge of Captain Wm. Ashford, with John Sullivan and Alex. Weddell in the office—gentleman under whose guidance she will never lose a particle of her well earned popularity. Her late clerks, Captain Morton and Mills, Harry, leave Memphis this morning for Cincinnati, to take charge of the office of the Rowena, under their old commander, Captain John Davis. We commend them to our friends of the Queen City, and particularly Mr. Harry, who will doubtless be charmed by the novelties of the Queen City, as he has been absent from that city for some time. He is one of our most particular friends, and we know him to be just what he should be—a genial, unpretending, thorough gentleman.

We lost one or two tiers on the Richmond, which did not beat the Ruth to Cairo, the latter, we learn, having reached that port full half an hour ahead of her competitor, although leaving Memphis half an hour behind her. The General Quitman was not in the race, but made better time to Cairo than the two racers, and strove for the mastery. The River News Agency, composed of Darff, English & Co., has gone up root and branch having ventured largely on the trial of speed, and backing the Richmond to the amount of their capital, profits and all. They have freely handed over, and now patiently await a fresh start, which they anticipate making without protracted delay, through the liability and the certainty of assistance of their friends, who are legion.

To add to the confusion without noise, just at this time prevailing, Captain Dick was overhauled by the genial Richmond, to know how the first named, how many fast horses and fast other things he kept, and the exact amount he lost on the racing steamers.

Dick, with a satisfied air,
Replying with head erect and bland,
Declared not a d—n did he care,
For he stood where he always would stand.

He answered the questions in full,
And quietly relieved
When over their grave he did bend,
And they knew not how they were deceived.

The Belle Memphis cleared for St. Louis last evening with a fair passenger trip.

The J. D. Perry got off for Evansville with a good trip.

The Sam. J. Hale, Captain Walker, leaves to-day at five p.m. for Cincinnati.

The fine passenger packet Mollie Hambleton, Captain Bowman, leaves to-day for St. Francis river. She is the regular White river packet, and passenger list, and will attend to all way business. She has good passenger accommodations and courteous officers.

A dastardly attempt was lately made at St. Paul to sink the Nonesuch line packet company's barge Mallard, by boring holes in it.

The Henry M. Shreve, from St. Louis for Vicksburg, passed down last night with a good trip.

The P. W. Strader, from Louisville for New Orleans, passed down yesterday with a full trip.

The fine steamer Norman, Captain Varbie, leaves to-day at five p.m., for Louisville. Mr. G. Ramoney presides in the office.

The Rubicon, Captain Blake, will leave the wharf on Wednesday at five p.m., for Cairo and St. Louis.

The elegant side wheel steamer Darling will be at the wharf to-day to receive for Cincinnati, and will leave on Friday at five p.m.

A negro named Dick Ward fell down through the hatch into the hull of the Rose Hambleton, and injured himself so severely as to cause his death in a few moments.

The low boat Homer passed up last night for St. Louis. She met the dread Republic, which was bound for New Orleans with a heavy cargo. Hard aground at Island 64 on Sunday morning. The Homer succeeded in pulling her off the bar, and she went on her way rejoicing.

The fine steamer Lady, in command of Captain Ward, is receiving at the wharf, for St. Francis river, Helena and Moon lake, and leaves to-day at five p.m. She is staunch and seaworthy, and her officers are prompt and thorough steamboatmen. She leaves to-day at five p.m., and will give prompt attention to all way business. Captain Ward offers great inducements to the shippers in the way of cheap freights. His boat is now run at light expense, and he proposes to carry freights at low rates. The following is a list of prices: Cotton freights 25c per hundred; heavy, 20c; dry, in bales, 40c; pork, 75c; corn, 20c per sack; hay, 75c per bale; St. Francis river pound freights, per hundred, 40 to 50c; dry hides 50c; pork, $1 per 100; corn, 10c per sack; hay, $1 per bale. Mr. Ward an affable and courteous gentleman and reliable clerk, has charge of the office.

The City of Alton, Captain Sam. McPheeters, arrived from St. Louis, last evening, with a splendid trip. She leaves the wharf to-day at five p.m. for a return trip to Cairo and St. Louis. Mr. William McCreight is her polite purser.

The Celeste is receiving for Little Rock, and is advertised to leave to-morrow at five p.m.

A correspondent of the Des Arc Citizen, writing from this city on the 17th, pays a very complimentary notice of "the good old reliable," the Commercial. We annex some of it as too good to be lost: "This boat reminds one who has traveled on her of an old Mexican dollar, that shines the brighter the more it is used. Captain Billy Ashford is commanding her for the present, and no one on White River that has ever traveled on a steamer commanded by him, but will be told that he is the right man in the right place;" as a steamboat captain he is in the superlative degree, and the polite accommodating clerks of this boat are in the double comparative if not superlative degree." The writer is evidently a lover of nature, and more especially of those delicate creatures whom we can call ours, and not their appetites. He says of the lady passengers: "I think they are all fine and look as fresh and gay as a garden of roses, with pendant dew drops reflecting the early rays of a May day morning." He thus describes the inroads of the Mississippi on Helena: "At a quarter past two o'clock we were at Helena, that is what is left of it from caving into the river. The Mississippi river has confiscated and unto itself appropriated a portion of Helena that once bordered upon the levee. Helena will have ultimately to go to the hills or into the river, for this mighty stream mocks at artificial marks and bounds, and respects no rights of private property."

Our St. Louis exchanges of Saturday has the following:

The river here is steadily rising. The Illinois is falling. The upper Mississippi is falling at St. Paul, but rising at and below Dubuque. The Walter Dance, from Benton, reports the Missouri rising all the way down. The upper Mississippi rise will soon run out. There will probably be a long dry spell, which will result in low water in the several rivers. Then will be, of course, the good time for light draft steamers. Some think that there will be a stage of only six feet water to Cairo four weeks hence. That is very doubtful. Low rates continue to rule, but it is anticipated that the competing lines will, on Monday morning, establish uniform and equitable rates to all points. Business remains in about its usual condition. There being but one steamer loading for New Orleans caused an increase in the rate of freight, which did not afford much satisfaction to shippers, many of whom were complaining loudly. The Henry Adkins, from New Orleans to this port, brought up some 500 barrels of flour, which had been shipped to New Orleans for sale, and sent back to this city for want of a purchaser.

THE TURF.

Race Between Dexter to Harness and Ethan Allen and Running Mate.

Allen the Victor in Three Straight Heats.

Time, the Best on Record—2:15—2:16 [illegible] Half Mile in 1:04.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, June 21.

The great trotting match between Dexter and Ethan Allen and running mate, took place to-day on the Fashion course.

Probably no event in sporting circles ever excited so much interest as this trot, which has been pending for some time. Many circumstances conspired to enhance this interest, the principal o. which were the undisputed supremacy of the contestants over all others, and the remarkable time made by each horse previous to their coming together to-day—which inspired the opinion that when the match did take place unprecedented time would be made. And the result justified the opinion, for in the race Ethan Allen and mate made the unprecedented time of 2:15, 2:16 and 2:19, beating the brown gelding in three straight heats.

THE MATCH.

Since the unequaled time of 2:19, with running mate made by Ethan Allen, and the ease and dash with which he crossed the score, without a skip, there has existed a desire among sporting men to see the horse matched. This was effected some time ago; but owing to Ethan's mate going lame, his owner paid forfeit. He subsequently procured another mate, the mare Charlotte, and, by private trials and exercising, satisfied himself that the pair could turn a mile in the teens. In consequence of this, the match was revived and its details perfected. Dexter was to go in harness, the race should be mile heats, three in five, and the consideration was to be $1,000.

THE ATTENDANCE.

The Fashion is one of the best courses in the country, but never since its inauguration was such a crowd present as that on this afternoon. The amphitheatres were filled at an early hour with ladies and gentlemen, while in, around and about the course were lines of vehicles filled with mortals breathing heavily and perspiring under the heat of the descending sun. The sporting men were present in large numbers, and by their presence and the animation pervading their circle, contributed greatly to excite an increase of interest in the probabilities of the contest. Philadelphia sent a large delegation, Baltimore was represented, Boston had its quota, while from the west, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis, came many of the turf cognoscenti. No less than twenty thousand persons could have been present.

THE BETTING.

This feature of a race was suitably exemplified. In New York city last night, and preceding evening, at the several hotels where turf men congregate, and on the track to-day, pool selling was very animated, and outside betting was very lively. Dr. Underwood, since his connection with the Fashion course, never opened his mouth so often, selling first and second choices, as on this afternoon. Dexter was the favorite at about two to one. In several pools the disparity was even greater. In one sale he brought $500 to Ethan Allen's $200, and in another, $1,000 to $400. Ethan Allen equally contributed until after the first heat, when a marked transition was visible in the betting, and the backers of the gelding began to change their tone from high tenor to low bass, and to hedge where the vocation was in demand. The amount of money invested was immense; consequently the winnings and losings must be very great. The decision of the judges declaring all bets off must have proven as soothing as the balm of Gilead to the many confident ones who had gone their bottom dollar on Dexter.

THE RACE.

At 3 o'clock the entries appeared on the quarter stretch and showed their gait to the multitude. Here an unlooked for circumstance occurred. It began to be whispered about that a running mate had been substituted for Charlotte—the mate with which Ethan was to trot according to the agreement. Mr. Fawcett, the owner of Dexter, being informed of the fact, protested against the substitution as a violation of the terms of the match and subversive of the regulations of the course. He however expressed his willingness that the race should proceed. The owner of Ethan stated that Charlotte had gone lame, and could not fulfill the engagement. The judges took the matter into consideration, but in the meantime the horses were called up for the

First Heat.—In the toss for place Dexter secured the pole. At the second attempt they got the word, Ethan a little in advance. Around the turn they lapped, and, passing the quarter pole in thirty-two seconds, settled to business on the back stretch. Here a close struggle took place for the lead, without either gaining a perceptible advantage until they passed the half mile in 1:04, when the stallion went up, which gave Dexter three lengths. Ethan soon caught himself and tripped along with his mate at a terrific gait. As Dexter passed the last turn and swung into the home stretch, the pair collared and challenged him for the lead. Here both opened, and then the struggle for the heat occurred. Dexter was putting in his quick stepping strides, and Doble was urging him to do his utmost; but the stallion slowly crawled by him amid the wildest excitement, and at the distance was nearly four lengths ahead, and being pushed by his mate, went across the score five lengths in advance of the gelding, who was on the skip, in the unprecedented time of 2:15.

Second Heat.—The unexpected result of the first heat created the utmost consternation among the heavy betters. Hedging was now the order of the day, and the betting assumed an evenness entirely unexpected. At the first score they received the go both together, but Ethan, being pressed too much, went off his feet at the turn, which gave Dexter a length lead. At the quarter, which was made in thirty-four seconds, Dexter had still the right of way, with the stallion after him at his best, while the little pole in the rear was nip and tuck to the stallion doing his best to overhaul his fleet-footed predecessor; but being again pushed too much, he flew asunder, which gave Dexter a six-length lead to the home stretch. He was soon followed by Ethan, now trotting splendidly and working well. Now ensued another strife similar to that in the first heat. Notwithstanding the matchless gait and steadiness of the little gelding, the pair drew upon him, lapped his wheel, then shoved their noses in front, and finally passed and led him to the score by three lengths. Time: 2:16. Dexter's time, 2:16¼.

Third Heat.—The defeat of the gelding in the two previous heats did not completely destroy hope in the minds of his admirers—the betting being, as before, even. The facile breaks of the stallion led many to believe that Dexter would yet achieve a victory. At the fourth trial they were sent off together, but Ethan pushed in front, and at the quarter, in thirty-five seconds, led five lengths. This he increased to six at the half, which he passed in 1:06. This advantage he maintained until they struck the finish, when the gelding was opened, but only made a length by the endeavor, the team eliciting a bell tap as they won the heat by five lengths and the race. Time, 2:19. The gelding was not more than two and a half seconds behind in either heat.

After the race was decided, loud calls were made for the judges to determine the question, raised previous to starting, relating to the substitution of Ethan's mate. The judges, in response, declared Ethan Allen and mate the winners of the race, but declared all bets off. This decision was received with mingled dissent and approbation, but the majority seemed satisfied.

NATIONAL BANK OF SOUTH CAROLINA IN CHARLESTON.

It will be remembered that subscriptions to the capital stock of this bank were made in this city in February last, to the extent of 375 shares, the rest of the capital being promised from abroad. Orders, however, to the district cashier by the establishment of military governments in the Southern States, capitalists declined to risk their money here, and the project, although not entirely abandoned, has been postponed to a more propitious period. Meanwhile, all subscribers who may desire to withdraw their subscriptions can do so and receive back their instalment of five dollars per share by calling at the office of Wm. B. Hertz & Co., No. 9 Broad street, and surrender the certificates. [Charleston Courier.

The United States Controller of Currency, through the columns of the New Orleans Times, notifies all persons holding claims against the First National Bank of that city, to give legal proof thereof to the Receiver, Mr. Charles Case, at his office in New Orleans. Also, that holders of circulating notes issued by said bank can obtain new, instead of money for the same on application at the United States Treasury.

THE FAILURE OF WATTS, CRANE & CO.

The following letter from W. C. Watts, Esq., the head of the great house of W. C. Watts, & Co. and Watts, Crane & Co., at Liverpool, will be read with interest. The fullest confidence is felt by all in the integrity and capacity of all the members of the firm, and it is gratifying to know that it is believed the firm will be able to pay all its liabilities and resume business:

LIVERPOOL, June 3, 1867.

The books of the firm were placed in the hands of Messrs. Harwood, Banner & Son, accountants, to prepare a statement of the condition of the business, to be submitted to a meeting of creditors. The meeting was held on the 21st ultimo, and was largely attended. The following is condensed from the statement submitted:

LIABILITIES.
On bills and open accounts unsecured	£37,400 4 6
ASSETS.
Cash on hand	£ 1,615 5 5
Goods consigned, good	29,500 19 5
Goods, such as cotton, tobacco, etc.	40,000 1 6
Other securities	1,419 2 6 — 77,534 11 10
Apparent deficit	£19,849 12 10
To provide for which there was at the debts of individual partners	£12,000 0 6
Debt of Watts, Crane & Co.	27,000 16 5
Debt of Crane, Watts & Co.	20,267 0 11
Debt of other American firms, etc.	6,277 13 0 —
	108,534 10 5
Less amount at credit of profit and loss	31,000 7 7 — 19,849 12 10

From the above statement it is evident, if the firm can realize but a small proportion of the debt due it in America, it certainly can pay twenty shillings on the pound, and if it could collect all, it could not only pay every penny it owed, but have a large capital left. The creditors, therefore, without a dissenting voice, consented to the proposition of our solicitors to permit the resident partners, James Bannerman and myself, to wind up the affairs of the concern under friendly inspection. This we will proceed to do as rapidly as the nature of the assets and the interests of all concerned will permit.
